

	ATTENDANCE POLICY
	(TY 2026-27)

Objective: To outline the policy guidelines, regulate the attendance of employees, and maintain punctuality at work.

Applicability: This Policy applies to all Employees of V5 TechSol India LLP at all locations in India.

ATTENDANCE POLICY

OFFICE TIME

- The office hours are from 9:30 a.m. to 6:30 p.m. IST. This includes 1 hour of interval/ rest time in between. An employee can choose to take 1-hour rest at a stretch or divide it into a break of one 30 minutes and two short 15-minute breaks.
- Office working days are from Monday to Friday and Every quarterly month 4th Saturday.
- Every employee must punch in biometric machine to mark attendance on daily basis and HR portal whenever he/she reports in and out of the office and while doing work from home.
- An employee going out of the office during working hours for any purpose is required to punch the outgoing and incoming time into the biometric machine.
- If anyone goes out of the office, for any personal reason for more than 1 hour he/she should inform his/her reporting manager before going out.

ON DUTY (OD)

- Any employee reporting late in the office or leaving early from the office for any client visit should inform and get permission from his reporting manager. The approval has to be in place before proceeding for any official work out of the office.
- Any employee going out of the office on OD and coming from OD has to record their in biometric machine (HR Portal) both.

LATE REPORTING/ EARLY GOING

- Only 03 late comings and early going per month up to maximum 30 minutes are allowed from the scheduled office working hours. More than 3 late comings, without appropriate reason, would result in disciplinary actions and Half-Day Leave will be deducted.
- If an employee doesn't have sufficient leaves in the account for the deduction purpose, then the same will be calculated as "Loss of Pay"
- It is mandatory for employees to inform their reporting manager of any late coming before the shift starts. The reporting manager should be informed before leaving early.

Quarterly 4th Saturday Working Day

- Every quarterly 4th Saturday will be a mandatory working day. All employees must attend work on this day. Leave or permission will not be permitted, and any absence will be treated as LOP.
- If any official meetings or company events are scheduled for other Saturdays, attendance will be mandatory for all employees. If any employee is absent on such days, it will be considered as LOP.

	ATTENDANCE POLICY
	(TY 2026-27)

WORK FROM HOME (WFH) on SOS:

Work from home policy applies to all employees and must be followed as the below mentioned guidelines.

- Female employees are allowed to avail up to 1-2 WFH days per month.
- Male employees are allowed to avail up to 2 WFH days per month.

Important Guidelines:

- WFH requests must be informed to your reporting manager at least 1–2 days in advance with proper reason and should get approved by the Manager. (Keep inform to HR department as well).
- In case of any emergency, the request must be informed on the same day before 9:00 AM.
- Work from Home option is only allowed to be taken when the situation at hand doesn't allow an employee to come to work in extreme situations.
- WFH beyond the allowed days will not be permitted and will be treated as Loss of Pay (LOP) unless otherwise not approved by the manager.
- Work from Home option is not carried forward and gets lapsed at the end of every month
- Monday and Friday availing WFH will not be applicable.
- In case of medical emergencies or critical personal situations, additional WFH days may be considered on a case by case with proper communication and supporting documents.
- WFH is not allowed during month-end, quarter-end and year-end working days. If any employee avails WFH on these days, it will be considered as LOP.

REMOTE WORKING

- Remote work allows employees to work in their own home or at a satellite location for all or part of their work. The remote work option is given by the organization when the job is suited for such work-arrangement.
- Remote work is not an entitlement. The organization has full right to change the option with the change in the scenario.
- This applies to only in special cases and who are working with client locations and other states (Except Hyderabad branch).
- Employees must ensure that they are available during working hours over emails, calls and other messenger apps used by the organization to communicate. This is to ensure smooth work association between other team members and with customers. Employees must be available to attend meetings and trainings whenever assigned and asked by their reporting manager.
- An employee has to follow regular office hours/shift time while working remotely and liaise with his reporting manager about work patterns (work time, break time). For any change in shift time, prior approval is required from the supervisor/reporting manager.
- In a scenario when an employee is unable to complete his/her shift time (full or part of a day), he has to inform his supervisor and apply for leave.
- It is the responsibility of a reporting manager to monitor the attendance & work performance of his/her team members and ensure that his team members provide standard performance.

	ATTENDANCE POLICY
	(TY 2026-27)

MONTHLY ATTENDANCE REPORT

- It is the responsibility of a reporting manager to provide monthly details of WFH, OD, leave approved, LWP (Leave Without Pay) days to the HR.
- The attendance report should be submitted on 29th of every month to HR considering 30th /31st date as a present-day. Any deduction for LWP day for the last day of the said month will be accounted for in the next month.

 The management reserves all rights to append, modify, withdraw any part or complete policy at any time ***